

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

WITH this eleventh volume AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT virtually begins a new series. Most of the more important records of the preceding volumes have been incorporated in a single alphabet in our larger compilation, AUCTION PRICES OF BOOKS. It is true that, as the AUCTION PRICES OF BOOKS is limited in its scope by the fixing of a minimum price of $5.00 for the lot and as for various reasons other lots were discarded in making up the larger work, and as autographs and manuscripts are entirely beyond its scope, the annual series is not by any means rendered useless. Least of all is this the case with the volumes for 1903 and 1904, both of which were issued after the greater work was well under way, and in the case of the volume for 1904, in large part in type. The selection from these years is less copious, though a place was found for most of the important items.

With this volume we have adopted a new arrangement which we hope will meet with the approval of subscribers (or at least not with their disapproval.) Our record has been growing so voluminous that some form of condensation has become necessary. The present volume records the sale of 10,793 lots, more than 75 percent increase over our initial volume of 1895. The arrangement, therefore, of the AUCTION PRICES OF BOOKS has been adopted for the present and succeeding volumes.

The name of the author, or, in the case of anonymous books the first words of the title, are set in black-faced type. The author's name is followed (in the case of the first record under an author) by the title of the book. Other titles by the same author are preceded by a dash. These titles are arranged in alphabetical order. This first portion of the description is general and applies, as in AUCTION PRICES OF BOOKS, to all copies of the same book. Following this general description is the specific description of the copies of the book as sold, each lot beginning a new line.

This specific description is made up as follows:

First. A description of the binding, the abbreviations being those which are universally used and understood.

Second. (In parenthesis) some note as to condition, extra plates or autographs inserted, Large Paper or other special edition, former ownership, etc., etc.

Third. The name of the sale where a name was given on the catalogue. This does not mean in every case that the name as given is that of the actual owner of the book, as additions from other unannounced sources are often included with books of a known owner.

Fourth. The initial of the name of the auctioneer under whose management the sale took place. As there are only four auctioneers who have held sales which find a place in our record, the initial letter answers as well as the full name.

A. is The Anderson Auction Company.

H. is Stan. V. Henkels.

L. is Charles F. Libbie & Co.

M. is The Merwin-Clayton Sales Company.

Fifth. The date of the sale. In the case of sales of more than a single day's duration this date is that of the first day of the sale.

Sixth. The lot number in the original sale catalogue.

Seventh. The price realized. This is the price per lot. Books in American auction rooms are sold at so much per volume but the price here given in each case is the total price realized for the lot.

The omission of the Index is the most important innovation in the present volume. As the arrangement is almost entirely plainly alphabetical and as the work is consulted for the purpose of learning the prices brought at auction by particular books, a subject Index seems to be unnecessary, and we believe that it has been very seldom referred to in the past.

The past season has seen an important addition to the small number of auction houses in this country who make a specialty of the sale of books and manuscripts.

The Merwin-Clayton Sales Company, an organization made up principally of the former employees of the old house of Bangs & Company and their predecessors, began business at the end of 1904 and selections from numerous sales held by them find record in the present volume.

While it is a pleasure to chronicle an accession to the ranks of the auctioneers, whose sales we record, it is with deep personal regret that we mention also an important loss which the trade has suffered in the death, on Nov. 9th, 1904, of Mr. Charles F. Libbie, for nearly thirty years the head of the well-known

Boston house. Previous to starting in business for himself, Mr. Libbie had been connected with the older houses of Leonard & Co. and George A. Leavitt & Co. The business will continue to be carried on under the old firm name by Mr. Libbie's son, Mr. Fred J. Libbie, who has been associated with his father in the business for nearly twenty-five years.

A review of the sales of the season as outlined in the chronological list on the pages following shows a dearth of great libraries.

Parts II, III, and IV of the Hurst collection, sold by the Anderson Auction Company on Nov. 28 and 29, 1904, Dec. 12 and 13, 1904, and March 20, 21 and 22, 1905, was, perhaps, the most important single library offered for sale at auction during the season. Aside from the Hurst library there were few collections offered which will go down in history as important sales of collectors' books.

The library of John Kendrick Bangs sold by the Merwin-Clayton Co., on Feb. 8, 9 and 10, included some nice collectors' books, as did the collection described as the library of the late Arthur Mason Knapp of Boston, with additions, sold by Libbie & Co. on February 14, 15 and 16. Equally good or better items were included in sales made up of lots consigned by various owners. These miscellaneous sales made up the greater part of the season's business.

Autographs and manuscripts make up a larger part of our volume than ever before. Some of the best manuscripts have been included in book sales, notably a number of fine items in the Hurst collection. There were, however, several important autograph sales, such as the Carson collection, sold by Mr. Henkels on October 26, 1904, the Botta collection, sold by Libbie & Co., November 17 and 18, 1904, the Barton, Mercer and Milligan papers, sold by Mr. Henkels on January 27, 1905, two portions of the J. H. V. Arnold collection, sold by the Anderson Auction Co. on February 1, 2 and 3, and on March 8 and 9, two portions of the collection of James Grant Wilson, sold by the Merwin-Clayton Sales Co. on April 13 and May 16 and 17.

Our record this season has been compiled from 152 catalogues, comprising a total of about 116,000 lots. This is a considerable increase in number of lots and number of catalogues over last season, though it does not quite equal the corresponding totals for 1903.
